NEW JERSEY– Easterseals New Jersey (ENJ), the largest disability services nonprofit in the state, announced the appointment of Colts Neck resident, Van Shell Jr. to its Board of Directors.

Shell Jr. is the Managing Director and Private Banker at J.P. Morgan Private Bank.

With over 20 years of financial services experience, Shell Jr. manages the financial needs of high-net worth individuals and multi-generational families in Manhattan and the tri-state region. Shell Jr. earned a BA in Government and Urban Studies from Lehigh University and an MBA from Cornell University's Johnson Graduate School of Management.

Also joining the board are: Jim Ankner, Co-President and Co-Founder of Hummingbird Ventures LLC; Anna Malhari, Chief Operating Officer of Veris Residential, Inc; and Mansi Patel, Vice President of Centene Corporation.

Combined, their diverse business management, communications, nonprofit, and finance expertise will be beneficial to helping children and adults with disabilities reach their full potential.
